*Jan Szynaka
President of the Polish Chamber of Commerce of Furniture Manufacturers*

Foreword

The hundred-years-old furniture tradition in Poland has allowed to build a strong brand of the Polish product, therefore our furniture became a hallmark of the country on the international market. Currently, the furniture industry is one of the fastest growing branches of the Polish industry. The domestic manufacturers have consistently strengthened their position among the world's largest manufacturers of furniture that become one of the most important export goods, and our furniture industry is placed among the world leaders. In the first half of 2017, Poland exported 1.72 million tons of furniture, which is 7.7 percent more than a year ago.

This proves that Polish products are getting more and more popular among users all over the world. Only in the first half of this year, Polish furniture were delivered to flats in over 160 countries. It is not, therefore, an exaggeration to say that we have become a furniture power in Europe and in the world. This spectacular success is a joint triumph of all Polish furniture manufacturers. We proudly furnish the world by making every effort to make national products the most perfect form of promotion of our country. Most Polish furniture companies are family-owned companies, with a long tradition, which directly translates into the quality of the products they offer.

The owners feel responsible for every piece of furniture leaving the factory, as the art of furniture has not only a business dimension for them, but first of all, it is a continuation of family traditions that characterize their individual values. All this makes Polish furniture a valued and desirable export product. We are particularly proud of impressive results and excellent forecasts by the prism of the activity of the Polish Chamber of Commerce of Furniture Manufacturers, which celebrated the 20th anniversary of its existence in the past year. We are delighted that we have been able to build a perfect image and status of the Polish furniture industry in Poland and internationally for over 20 years together with Polish furniture manufacturers.

We present the material showing the great potential of native exporters who managed to make the Polish furniture ceased to exist geographical boundaries. Products from our country are a synonym of the highest quality, modernity and excellent design, therefore they are willingly chosen by users around the world. We invite you to check the diverse offer of manufacturers, who build the power of export of Polish furniture every day.

Michał Strzelecki
 Director of the office of the Polish Chamber of Commerce of Furniture Manufacturers

Polish furniture industry as an export leader

Over last 25 years Polish furniture industry achieved a great success. Polish furniture industry has been qualified to the select group of furniture export leaders in the world. Globally, only China, Italy and Germany export more furniture. It is worth mentioning that Germans and Italians export more than Poles only due to the higher prices of their products. Converting the production of furniture into kilograms and tons Poland is the second largest exporter of furniture in the world.

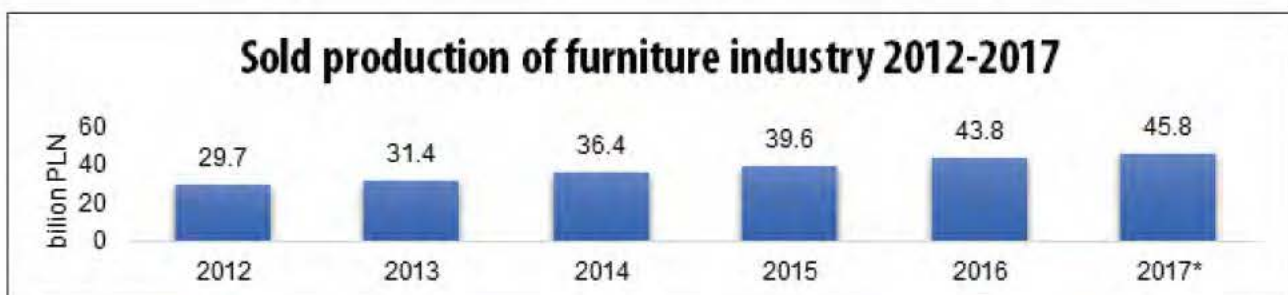

This great success would not be possible without a long tradition and a huge effort of many entrepreneurs of both large companies, as well as a large group of small and medium companies, mainly family companies with domestic capital.

Currently, furniture worth approximately PLN 5-6 billion are sold on the domestic market (including prices for individual customers).

Over the last years, Polish furniture have significantly developed in terms of design. The quality has been improved, and the Polish manufacturers have gained the trust of many Western recipients.

Furniture production in Poland is occupied by a group of over 25 thousand entities, precisely the number was 25,833 (data referring to the third quarter of 2016). In 2016, the value of sold production of furniture companies increased up to PLN 43.8 billion, which proves an increase by over 10% in comparison with 2015 (including microcompanies employing less than 10 employees). In 2017, the upward trend is expected to continue. According to preliminary estimates of B+R Studio the value of sold production of furniture industry in 2017 will equal approximately PLN 46 billion (including microcompanies).

Furthermore, a high position in the value and volume ranking speaks for strong position of Polish furniture industry in the global context. The obtained results place Poland on the 2nd and 4th position in terms of both value and export volume of furniture. With regard to the value in export in 2015 merely China (USD 61.47 billion), Germany (USD 12.23 billion) and Italy (USD 10.63 billion) stay ahead, according to the UN data. The same source states, that Poland exported furniture worth USD 9.99 billion in 2015. As the result, furniture is the fourth largest group of goods exported from Poland, at the same time, furniture is the most important group in terms of foreign trade balance.

2016 is the next year of record export sales of Polish furniture. The increase of export value in euro was 11%, and export reached the value of over EUR 9.5 billion. It is worth mentioning that the value of exported furniture from Poland over the years 2010–2016 increased by 69%.

Source: based on EUROSTAT data

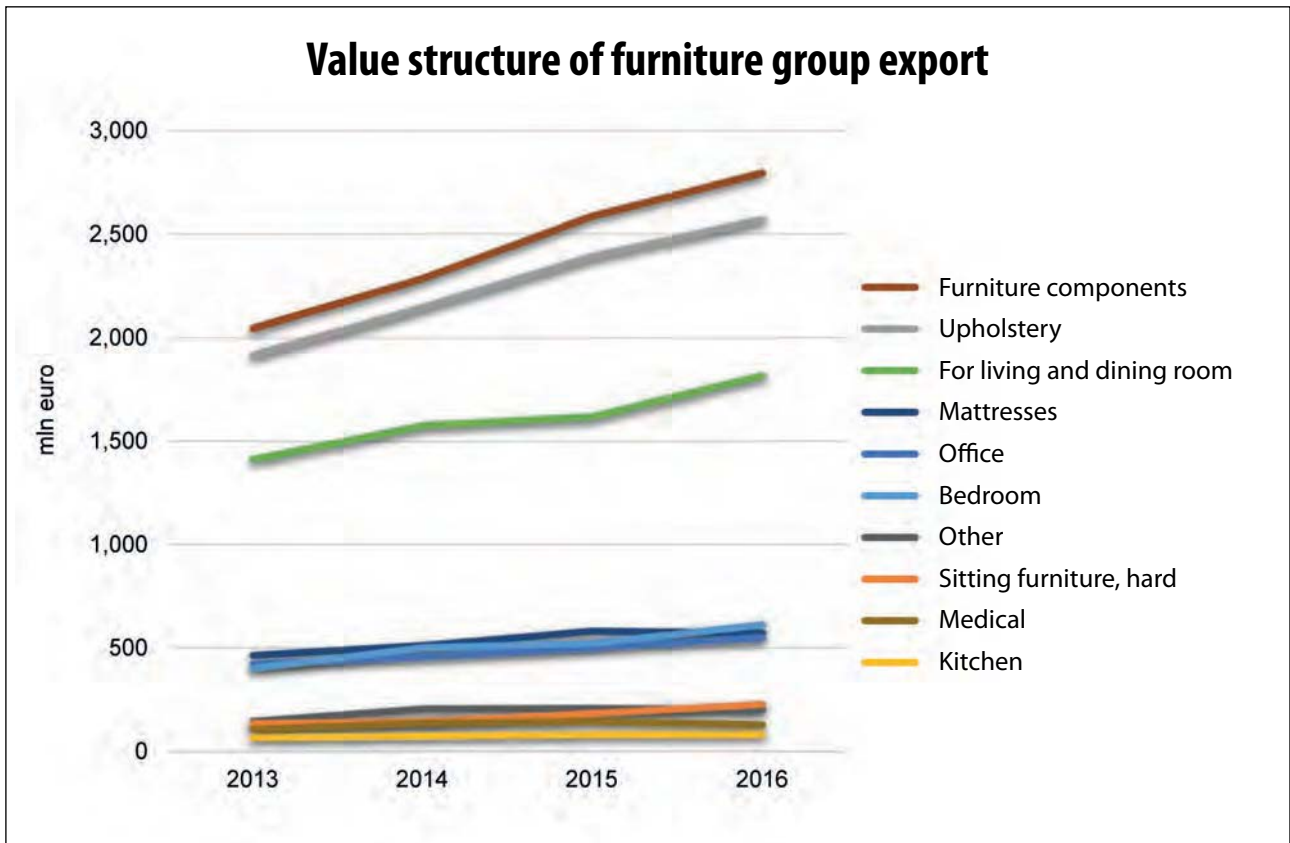

Over the years, Germany remains the main recipient of furniture and the share of this country in export sales was 36.6% in 2016. Export to the UK, placed on the second position in the ranking, was EUR 763 million and its share reached 8% in 2016. Czech Republic and France rank in the further positions with the share of 7.3% and 6%, respectively. Among the top 20 of recipients from countries outside the EU are the USA (7th place), Switzerland (14th place), China (16th place) and Russia (19th place).

Figure 4 - The value of Polish export furniture for selected countries in 2016

In the export statistics, the largest group of exported furniture from Poland are fixed components of furniture, which can be identified as a self-assembly furniture. In 2016 their value took over EUR 2.7 billion with the export share of 29.25%. Next in the group ranking, the same as last year are upholstered furniture, as well as furniture designed to the dining room and living room. Their value exceeded EUR 2.57 billion and EUR 1.8 billion, respectively. Next group is bedroom furniture with the export value of EUR 613 million.

The opportunity for Polish furniture industry

Poland is one of the fastest developing countries in the field of furniture industry. The excellent geographical location of Poland situated in the neighborhood of rich Western European countries has a huge impact on that. Hence the competitive advantage over the Far East countries. Long tradition and strong position among furniture recipients helps the Polish manufacturers gain the trust and brand. Additionally the opportunity for Polish furniture industry is gaining higher market share in developed countries, as well as seeing the opportunities in cooperation with prospective markets.

Exports offer: wood coatings

Main exports markets: the whole world.

Ilva products were born in 1946, in Brianza, northern Italy, worldwide known as a district of excellence in woodworking and furniture.

The fame of this area dates back to the late 1700s, when many artisanal craftsmen began to grow and flourish in manufacturing high quality furnishings for the Villa Reale of Monza and the emerging Milanese bourgeoisie.

Between 1945 and 1960, in the post-war period, it became the center of the great development of the European Furniture Industry.

The companies have grown, maintaining their attention to quality and detail unchanged, and currently they are universally recognized as a reference for quality and innovation. Their technical skills combine with design skills: they have started collaborating with architects and designers, ones among the most important in the world, to experiment innovative ideas together. From these ideas were born furniture, accessories and objects that have marked the history of industrial design. In this reality IlvaPolimeri has its roots.

From its birth, Ilva Polimeri began to co-operate the various business realities in the wood-furniture sector to understand their needs, expectations and to study how to support them in their growth path; in the wood-furniture sector to understand their needs, expectations and to study how to support them in their growth path. Proud to contribute to the diffusion of their fame in the world, IlvaPolimeri started a research for innovative products to protect and beautify wood and to make the coating process faster, simpler, and more efficient. In 1970, IlvaPolimeri was acquired by IVM Group, a multinational company operating in the field of wood coatings, founded by Adriano Teso and Massimo Milesi. Nowadays, the Group manages and controls directly all Ilva, Milesi and Cromalacke products.

For a number of years now, the Group, through retaining its identity as a solid family business, has decided to address the brand Ilva to the world of design. As synonyms of excellence in the world of wood coatings, Ilva products are considered by the most prestigious furniture manufacturers, top designers, and great architects who look for excellence in furniture with extraordinary finishes a benchmark for professionals in industry that are looking for trendy, exclusive products with absolutely unique and unrivaled performance.

Capable of catching the most sophisticated trends in furnishings and transform them in innovative and state-of-the-art products, Ilva offers an infinite range of coatings for the boldest design interpretations, meeting the most demanding needs, with countless effects and shades, giving wood a new life and identity. A result achieved thanks to the foresight of management and to the company's extraordinary team of over 200 scientists and technicians that, with rigor and sensitivity, manage to create highly customized and extraordinary coatings, with unique performance, able to meet any market need. Ilva's products are extremely innovative, with the highest standards and outstanding performance, offering solutions for all common application technologies in wood coatings, meeting market, industry and craft needs, with timely and high-quality responses.

Sanitizing coatings, scented coatings, up to the Wood Design line: with Ilva the wood becomes metal, ice, silk, marble, mosaic, rust or brass, to satisfy the weirdest whims of architects and designers.

"Water becomes silk", a clear, mat, soft-to-touch, water-borne top-coat, is among the most important products, with its unexceptionable technical features that can instantly give incomparable touch. It is particularly suitable for furniture manufacturers requiring innovative tactile effect in their work, and appreciated by designers and architects in interior design projects. With "Water becomes Silk", Ilva has succeeded in reproducing the same delicate refinement of this precious fabric on wood, making it aesthetically unique and sophisticated to the touch, while simultaneously guaranteeing resistance and protection over time.

The continuous research of state-of-the-art technical solutions has enabled Ilva to produce water-borne UV coatings, polyesters and acrylics with low ozone level, in line with the company policies that focus on constant attention and improvement of safety parameters, in full respect of the environment.

The Company's pride is Ilva's plant, located in Italy, near Pavia: over 15 hectares have become an international reference point for excellence in sustainability, production, efficiency, logistics and innovation, so much so that it has been reported by the Chinese Republic as a pilot plant to host the visit of a government delegation. This is unique, with regard to its size and architectural design, "operating center", with plants providing the highest production standards in the world: state-of-the-art technologies and sophisticated closed-loop production systems that drastically reduce - almost to zero - the emissions of pollutant in the environment, an essential feature in the chemical sector. This can be supplemented with the capillary trading network, embracing five continents and the presence of the Group in more than 100 countries around the world.

We pay special attention to furniture production. We have our own manufacturing plant and state-of-the-art machinery stock. We use a wide range of painting techniques: UV, automatic spray painting machines and manual spray painting. Curved surfaces are veneered with the use of a membrane press. Among our undeniable assets are: wide range of raw materials, advanced enamel technologies with the ability to obtain deep matte with high gloss, trusty methods of bending, ability to create asymmetrical forms and combining different materials, precision and aesthetic finishing. The combination of modern technologies with openness for Clients' needs and flexible production adjustments bring fruitful effects which we are proud of.

PROFESSIONALISM

Have your kitchen taken care of by professionals. Our professionalism is founded on tradition, experience, and know-how. We understand it as responsibility and support provided by a stable brand. We keep all our promises, giving you safety, convenience, and peace of mind. Professionalism means solid quality backed by a 5-year guarantee, with a view to enable you to enjoy your kitchen in a long-term perspective.

FUNCTIONALITY

Kitchen is a place where life goes on. That is why the functionality of your kitchen is our social responsibility. Functionality is based on ergonomics, it is a guarantee of order, and it is tantamount to the pleasure of use. A functional kitchen saves time that you can now spend with your family. The functionality of your kitchen is what we can guarantee thanks to our innovativeness and the best materials.

EMPATHY

Empathy is the starting point for the creation of your kitchen. We will try to get in your shoes and see the world from that perspective. Empathy is also emotion – what people feel is of importance to us. We reach the needs that remain unexpressed by the users, and solve their problems. The process of kitchen creation pursued hand-in-hand with the customer guarantees personalisation of the kitchen and promotes individualism.

Our core family brand values have an effect on how we create business relationships - based on trust and mutual respect. We comply with laws and regulations and always keep our promises. We invest in the development of our people and our facilities in order to create innovative interior design solutions. We aim to deliver game-changing innovations with cutting-edge technologies.

While others look for savings, we invest in quality. Our employees are passionate about their work, they endeavor to trust our own knowledge and skills. We look for responsible suppliers. We do it all to ensure that our products are high-quality & well-designed. While others care about profit, we value people & environment. We constantly optimize our energy consumption and environmental impacts for the sake of future generations. Our brand is recognized by experts and demanding customers. We are happy and honored that our products have received various business and design awards.

Our production facilities include a modern machine park, sawmill and wood-drying factory, Wajnert Research and Design Center. What is important, we have our own transport fleet.

Our furniture creates an inviting contemporary-styled look that will enhance any room. Among various furniture types, we specialize in creating modular lounge collections. Our end-clients value exceptional comfort, electrically adjustable relax functions, adjustable headrests and backrests, and a possibility to choose from different materials and colors, an option to select types of feet and armrests.
