Foreword

For 22 years, the Polish Chamber of Commerce of Furniture Manufacturers has been unceasingly supporting the activities of the Polish furniture industry and thus represents the interests of over 27,000 furniture companies, employing nearly 160,000 workers. From the very beginning of its activity, the Chamber's main objective has been to protect the interests of Polish furniture producers and promote Polish furniture on foreign markets.

The Polish furniture sector is currently one of the worldwide leaders in production of furniture, occupying 6th place in the global ranking of furniture manufacturers. At the same time, in 2017, we as a sector advanced from 4th to 3rd place in the world ranking, thus outmatching furniture exporters from Italy. In addition, in 2017 the total value of marketed furniture production exceeded 46 billion PLN, hence setting a new record!

The global furniture market poses continual challenges for Polish furniture producers. Nonetheless, new markets are opening before us and thus allowing for further development of enterprises. For several years, Polish companies in the furniture industry have been gaining greater confidence and now play an increasingly important role in international co-operation, also on markets situated in more distant parts of the globe. Particularly important in this case is the ability to ensure continuity within the furniture supplier – furniture recipient supply chain. Further expansion of this sector, both on national and international markets, will to a large extent depend on the security of processes and deliveries.

Ladies and gentlemen, with great pride we present to you the second edition of the Polish Furniture Export Offer. It underlines the enormous potential of Polish exporters, which have ensured that there are no longer any geographical boundaries for Polish furniture. Products hailing from our country are synonymous with top-tier quality, modernity and design, thus making them popular choices amongst users all over the world. We cordially invite you to compare the diverse range of manufacturers, who contribute to the strength of Polish furniture export on a day-to-day basis.

Polish furniture industry reigns as an export leader

Recent years have shown that Poland belongs to the circle of world leaders in terms of the value of marketed furniture production and export. Factors that contribute to this situation include, primarily, top-tier quality of furniture produced in Poland and relatively low labour costs. Also, one should not forget about the long-lasting tradition and endeavours of many entrepreneurs, both from large companies and an abundance of small and medium-sized firms. The success of the furniture industry is confirmed by data on production. In recent years, we have advanced in the worldwide ranking of the manufacturers from 10th to 6th position.

We manufacture all types of furniture; thus, we can differentiate and customise the product range both in terms of available materials, the way furniture is finished and in terms of furniture design. Furniture making can also undoubtedly count on high-quality materials and components used for furniture production. We also have access to state-of-the-art technology.

Michał Strzelecki
Director of the Bureau of the Polish Chamber of Commerce of Furniture Manufacturers

The furniture industry is one of the important sectors of the Polish economy. In 2017, the value of marketed furniture production amongst furniture companies rose up to 46.3 billion PLN, a 6.7% increase compared to results from 2016 (including micro-companies that employ less than 10 employees). This upward trend is likely to continue also throughout 2018. According to forecasts by B+R Studio, the value of marketed production for the furniture industry in 2018 might reach 49.2 billion PLN (including micro-companies).

In terms of the number of registered companies involved in furniture manufacturing, the Polish furniture industry occupies the second place in Europe, following only Italy. Furniture production in Poland is conducted by more than 27,000 entities. By the end of 2017 it was exactly 27,151 companies. 90 operators out of this number belong to a group of large companies employing over 250 workers, exactly 317 operators belong to a group of medium-sized companies (50-249 employees), 1,416 operators belong to small companies while 25,328 operators are micro firms that employ less than 10 persons.

Without a doubt, export serves as the motor engine for the Polish furniture industry. In 2017, thanks to exports reaching 1.6 billion USD, Poland was promoted in the ranking of the main exporters of furniture in the world from the 4th to 3rd place (11.6 billion USD). According to data published by the United Nations, in 2017 Poland followed only China (59 billion USD) and Germany (12.9 billion USD) in terms of value of export.

A chance for the Polish furniture industry

Poland is one of the fastest developing countries in the field of furniture design. An excellent geographical location - in the vicinity of rich Western European states - provides a competitive advantage over other countries. A long-lasting tradition and an established position in the eyes of European furniture recipients help Polish furniture manufacturers gain trust and improve brands. In addition, another chance for the Polish furniture industry is to obtain larger shares on the markets of well-developed countries as well as seek opportunities in co-operation with prospective markets.

This attitude is also confirmed by the continuous investments in R&D to which the Group allocates up to 8% of its turnover each year.

Every day, with passion, Ilva:

- interprets the trends of contemporary living to develop new original finishes at the service of the project
- searches for solutions that allow the use of wood, ductile, light, and above all eco-friendly and eco-sustainable, to replace materials that do not possess its natural beauty, generate an important environmental impact, require more demanding processing, are extremely heavy or unsuitable to achieve some elements
- is firmly committed in the development of products which protect wood and make it extremely resistant to scratches, shocks and liquids. It develops finishes designed to reproduce elements such as marble, gold and other metals, cement and mother-of-pearl
- studies products with an absent or extremely reduced environmental impact, both in the production and in the use one phase

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

ILVA has a vast and highly specialized Technical Support Network. They regularly visit clients production sites and advise them on the most innovative technical and applicative choices and on the most suitable solutions for their needs.

MAXIMUM ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY

Ilva products are manufactured in the modern plant of Parona, in northern Italy, unique in the sector for dimensions and design architecture, developed in an area of over 15 hectares. It is designed and built to guarantee production standards that are among the highest in the world, always ensuring maximum environmental sustainability.

All processes, from the arrival of raw materials to packaging, take place without releasing polluting substances. In fact, each stage of the production process is managed in a closed cycle.

Raw materials, both liquid and solid (powders), arrive in sealed tankers. These are connected with two pipes to the silos dedicated to storage: one is used to transfer the product, the other is used to transfer the air contained in the silos to the tank.

The production tanks are connected to the storage silos by pipelines which ensure that the raw materials cannot come into contact with the environment.

Finally, during the packaging phase, all the air resulting from the process of pouring the product into the packaging is picked up and "cleaned" by a sophisticated cryogenic system, then released into the environment completely free of pollutants.

SOLUTIONS FOR WOOD

Ilva offers the world of design endless innovative and sustainable coating solutions for wood, capable of providing targeted functions and excellent aesthetic qualities to any surface.

The wide range is declined in the different technologies in relation to their aesthetic appearance, their chemical-physical resistance, and the certifications and attestations that measure them according to international parameters.

To ensure to wood, natural and living material, beauty and functionality unchanged in time, Ilva offers a rich choice of water-based and solvent-based solutions for the maintenance of windows, structures, floors and parquet, outdoor and indoor furniture.

Ilva offers both water-based and solvent-based green product lines, including solutions that contain significant percentages of raw materials from recyclable and organic sources (i.e. of renewable vegetable origin that do not compete with those used to produce food), aromatics and formaldehyde-free paints, as well as 0-emission solvent-based and ozone-reduced solutions.

Antibacterial solutions and wood maintenance products complete its offer.

CHEMICAL, PHYSICAL AND FIRE RESISTANCES

Ilva offers solutions for wood with excellent chemical and physical resistance, tested and certified in relation to their ability to protect surfaces from:

- Scratches, bumps, abrasions and metal marking
- Liquids and chemicals
- Light, heat, cold and humidity
- Dirt and bacteria
- Weathering agents
- Biological agents

It also offers a complete line of certified flame retardants.

For a complete list of ILVA certifications and product declarations and cycles, visit the website www.ilva.it

ILVA develops every year new solution which meet market and customer requirements.

Among many others this year ILVA widen UV product range with new:

ILVA SOFT TOUCH UV – Solvent-based clear matt top-coat (3 sheen), Soft-touch effect

The new Ilva Soft Touch UV top-coat TUM3AA18 represents an important technical and aesthetic goal that has allowed to add the elegant and sought-after soft-touch effect, a trend in design furniture, to the UV technology, with important advantages.

The most important, compared to the soft-touch polyurethane top-coats already on the market, is certainly that of productivity: very short drying times perfectly meet the needs of industrial processing. Furthermore, the ease of application makes the TUM3AA18 top-coat suitable for the most common UV coating plants.

Another important plus is that the new TUM3AA18 top-coat is suitable not only for cycles on wood and wooden substrates, but also on materials such as ABS and PVC, commonly used in furniture, both on flat and shaped surfaces, greatly expanding the application segments.

Internal tests

TUM3AA18 has been tested through specific internal tests, that have shown that the soft touch effect has performances of exceptional resistance to scratching and polishing, and surface hardness. This top-coat is of interest to industrial customers who wish to enrich their productions with a soft-touch effect while maintaining high standards of productivity and resistance.

ILVA Soft Touch product is a unique product on the market for the quality of the soft touch effect, technical performance and versatility of use.

IT'S OUR MISSION TO IMPRESS YOU

Behind the name impress lies a global group of companies, which develop and manufacture trend-orientated wood-based panel decorative surfaces for the furniture and flooring industry, as well as modern interior design. We create the future-orientated decors for the design of tomorrow directly in-house. They are based on trends, which are identified across the globe by our wonderful network of internal scouts. As a market leader, impress strives to exceed our customers expectations by providing exceptional trend forecasting for today and into the future.

We believe it is vital to be a strong partner for our customers across the world! Based on the needs, cultures and markets, we carry out professional trend scouting, develop relevant decors and products, and work to continuously improve our portfolio and the quality of the service we provide.

Today's impress group combines over 85 years of incomparable expertise in the decorative print and finish foil sectors, for we were created by two pioneers: MASA Berlin (1928) – the inventor of decor rotogravure – and Letron Aschaffenburg (1963).

DECORATIVE PAPER

Rooms are brought to life by the colours, materials and fabrics that dress them. Warm wooden tones, striking natural stone elements, fantasy decors, graphic designs and solid colours lend them their personal character. Our high-quality decorative paper – featuring protected designs that we have developed and manufactured using the proven rotogravure printing technique – become the wood based products that form the "faces" of furniture, flooring and other elements within the room.

A collage of images related to interior design and global reach. At the top, there are two photographs: one of a modern living room with a yellow sofa and another of a vibrant, colorful mural on a wall. Below these are two more photographs: one of a modern outdoor terrace with a green wall and a dining area, and another of a bright room with a large window and a sofa. At the bottom, there is a large world map with numerous blue dots indicating global locations. Overlaid on the map is the text "IM GLOBAL".

FINISH FOIL

Our impress finish foil is a pre-impregnated paper (PRIP) with a surface quality that defines the finished product. With design in mind, we are continuously working intensively to develop both the appearance and feel of the surface while improving the functional properties to create a perfect product for further processing.

12-15.03.2019 | POZNAŃ | POLAND

CENTRAL AND EASTERN EUROPE'S LARGEST INTERNATIONAL FURNITURE BUYING PLATFORM

WHY IS IT WORTH?

Dieter Hilpert - Director BEGA-Gruppe / Germany

The MEBLEPOLSKA Furniture Fair can compete today with any trade fair in Western Europe, being a top class presentation of Polish furniture industry. This applies to virtually everything that is important to trade fair visitors: the presentation of the exhibition stands is of an absolute international level, the presentation of furniture at the stands is impeccable, and furniture itself has reached such a level of quality and design that it can compete with any product from Western Europe.

Mousheerl Maharaulee Finance Director - TFP International Ltd. / Mauritius

The reason why I want to buy furniture from Poland is that when we say 'it was manufactured in Poland', people associate it with quality. Also the level of the fair in Poznań is high and the staff is very helpful and friendly.

Gerald Schultheiss - Editor-in-chief "MÖBELMARKT" magazine / Germany

The Meble Polska Fair has developed in an extraordinary way in recent years. The number of furniture traders here is much larger than in the previous years, and a lot of visitors come from abroad. Phenomenal business is made at the Fair. I spoke with the representatives of many companies who agree that the Fair in Poznań is absolutely great.

Jan Szynaka - President of the Board Polish Chamber of Commerce of Furniture Manufacturers

The importance of the MEBLE POLSKA Furniture Fair is growing, which can be easily observed on the basis of the increasing number of visitors and exhibitors. Here meet all major commercial corporations from all over Europe, and even from the entire world. For those who organize the event, it is not just work, but a passion.
